

Language Learner Literature Awards Finalists 2019

Every year, The Extensive Reading Foundation recognizes the best new works of language learner literature in English. From books published in 2018, the ERF judges have selected 17 titles of particular merit – the finalists. From these 17, the ERF will select one winner in each of six categories, taking into account the votes and comments of students and teachers of English worldwide.

You and your students can vote and make comments at www.tiny.cc/erf19. Log in or create a new account. Enrolment key: 2019vote! Closing date: June 30, 2019 All finalist books can be ordered online from the independent CIBC, www.eflbooks.co.uk

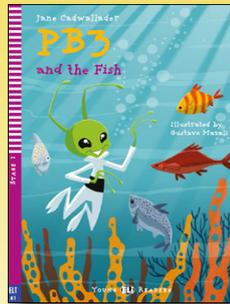

Very Young Learners

What's this?

By E.J.Lewis
Illustrator: Maja Sereda
Compass Publishing
ISBN: 978-1-945387-96-8

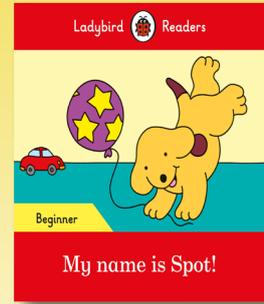

"Every time I flipped the pages, the kids got excited."

PB3 and the Fish

By Jane Cadwallader
Illustrator: Gustavo Mazali
Young ELI Readers
ISBN: 978-88-536-2231-0

"It teaches the targeted group to think about the consequences of their actions beforehand."

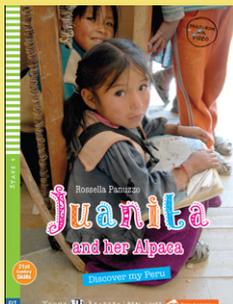

My name is Spot!

By Eric Hill
Series editor: Sorrel Pitts
Ladybird Books
ISBN: 978-0-241-31609-2

"Funny characters of the story create a pleasant atmosphere."

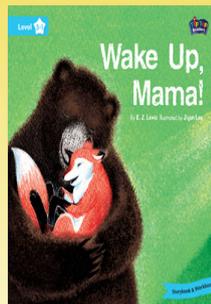

Young Learners

Juanita and her Alpaca

By Rossella Panuzzo
Illustrator: Matteo Piana
ELI Readers
ISBN: 978-88-536-2398-0

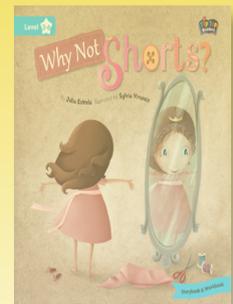

"introduces Peru, the country and its culture in a very interesting way."

Wake Up, Mama!

By E. J. Lewis
Illustrator: Jiyun Lee
Tip Top Readers, Compass Publishing
ISBN: 978-1-64015-006-5

"Hilarious story about animals and how they survive winter."

Why Not Shorts?

By Julia Estrela
Illustrator: Sylvia Vivanco
Tip Top Readers, Compass Publishing
ISBN: 978-1-64015-011-9

"uplifting book"

Adolescent and Adult: Beginner

A Christmas Carol

By Charles Dickens
Adapted by: Bill Bowler
Illustrated by: Mike McCarthy
Oxford University Press
Dominoes Starter

"excellent retelling of a beloved classic"

The Big Game

Author: Paul Shipton
Illustrated by: Gavin Reece
Oxford University Press
Oxford Bookworms - Starter
ISBN number: 978-0-19-462448-0

"engaging, accessible story, with level-appropriate language"

Find out more about the Extensive Reading Foundation at www.erfoundation.org

Don't miss the Fifth Extensive Reading World Congress, 9-13 August 2019, Taichung, Taiwan <http://erfoundation.org/erwc5>

Adolescents and Adults: Elementary

Ask a Friend

By Sue Leather
Illustrator: Jefferson Costa
StandFor

ISBN: 978-85-96-01491-5

"Contemporary, proactive and awareness-raising story of friendship and diversity"

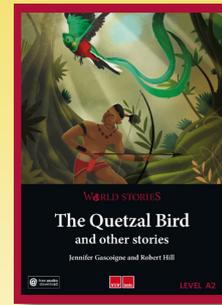

The Day of the Flood

By Denise Kirby
Illustrator: Paul Fisher Johnson
ILTS/ Hueber Lektüren

ISBN: 978-3-19-062997-8

"Awareness on prevention and rescue protocols will attract learners"

The Quetzal Bird and other stories

By Jennifer Gascoigne and Robert Hill
Illustrator: Jesus AguadoVicens Vives

ISBN: 978-84-682-5870-6

"Well written, interesting folk from all over the world."

Adolescents and Adults: Intermediate

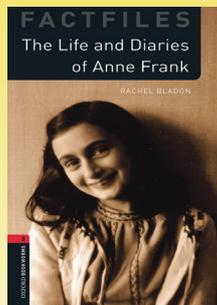

The Hunt is On!

By Antoinette Moses & Alexander Gordon Smith
Illustrator: Gilberto Martimiano
StandFor

ISBN: 978-85-96-01507-3

"It kept me hooked until the very end."

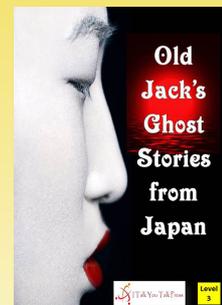

The Life and Diaries of Anne Frank

Author: Rachel Bladon
Illustrator: Peter Bull
Oxford University Press

ISBN: 978-0-19-402285-93

"It's an inspiring book...stories which should be alive nowadays."

Old Jack's Ghost Stories from Japan

By Colin Dixon
I Talk You Talk Press

ISBN: 978-4-907056-65-0

"Readers who love ghost stories should read this!"

Adolescents and Adults: Upper intermediate and Advanced

Far from the Madding Crowd

By Thomas Hardy
Retold by: Janet Cameron
Illustrator: Ivan Canu
Black Cat

ISBN: 978-88-530-1721-5-E

"The independence of the main female character... makes this famous novel relevant and appealing."

Guardians of the Galaxy, Vol. 2

By James Gunn
Retold by: Lynda Edwards
Pearson Education

ISBN: 978-1-2922-06295

"The dialogue is realistic, the characters are quite interesting and the narrative moves at an appealing pace."

On the Run

By Patricia Murrow
Publisher: I Talk You Talk Press

ISBN: 978-4-909733-17-7

"The pace is fast and the descriptions are concisely effective in achieving visualization."